

Night Garden

The fox looks under the box in the garden to see if there is any food. It is a dark night so no one can see him. The cat looks around to see if she can see a mouse, but he is at home in his bed. He is small, grey and has pink feet. Brrrr! It's a cold night to be outside.

The green back door is open and a big white dog jumps out into the night. He runs around the garden looking for the cat but he can't find her. Dad shouted the dog's name and the dog goes back inside the house. Mum turns the light off and everyone in the house goes to bed.

The fox looks through the window but there is no one there. All is still again in the garden.
